POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL (1917)

CAST Mary Pickford, Madeleine Traverse, Charles Wellesley, Gladys Fairbanks.
 DIR Maurice Tourneur. 35mm b/w print from The Mary Pickford Foundation.

Funny and touching, Poor Little Rich Girl is a film you won't want to miss! In one of her most famous roles, Mary Pickford is Gwendolyn, a lonely eleven-year-old who has everything she could want but the love of her busy parents. Given too much sleeping medication, Gwendolyn finds herself traveling to The Land of Happy Children in a surreal dream sequence that provides the film's climax. This playful movie explores the imagination of a child who literally sees bears on Wall Street and her nurse as a Snake-in-the-Grass. Full of beautiful photography and exquisite storybook-like sets, the film was directed by Maurice Tourneur, one of early cinema's most influential filmmakers. Poor Little Rich Girl was a smash hit at its release and exercised a major influence over the rest of Pickford's career. Our special guest for this program will be Keith Lawrence, head of The Mary Pickford Foundation, who will introduce this very rare screening of Mary's own 35mm print!

Program 2 2:15pm $8.00 Door Code: ESLF713B

UPSTAGE (1926)

CAST Norma Shearer, Oscar Shaw, Tenen Holtz, Gwen Lee.
 DIR Monta Bell. 35mm b/w print from Turner Entertainment Co.

One of MGM's most popular stars, Norma Shearer began her career in the movies by playing piano in a nickelodeon. She revisits her roots in Upstage, an engaging story about vaudevillians and backstage life. Norma plays Dolly Haven, a small-town girl who comes to New York in search of a stenography job and ends up causing a sensation on the stage. Success goes to her head until she learns to pay her dues and become a "real trouper." In a suspenseful conclusion involving a little girl, a ventriloquist's dummy and a knife-throwing act, Dolly courageously demonstrates the adage "the show must go on." Directed by Monta Bell, a filmmaker whose work is now undergoing a revival, Upstage is a genuine look at the tedium and idiosyncrasies of life in the wings. Our special guests will be Mick LaSalle, the popular newspaper and television film critic, and Mark Vieira, author of Hurrell's Hollywood Portraits, the new book on glamour photographer George Hurrell published by Harry N. Abrams, Inc.

MICHAEL MORTILLA

We are proud to welcome back composer and pianist Michael Mortilla, who will provide original piano accompaniment for both Poor Little Rich Girl and Upstage. Michael delivered a remarkable performance at last year's festival with his accompaniment for Gretchen the Greenhorn. He's best known for his score to the Charlie Chaplin Mutual short The Rink, which was the first film ever to be broadcast complete over the Internet. Most recently, Michael appeared as guest soloist with the Colorado Symphony Orchestra performing his score for Easy Street.
